

Have you ever Considered Living, Buying, or Investing in Panama?

Panama is one of the world's top offshore havens, continuing to emerge as one of the world's best retirement destinations!

Panama offers advantages over every other Central and South American destination. Not only does Panama offer tax advantages, affordable housing, tropical climate and contemporary bilingual entertainment, it offers some of the world's most beautiful mountain, beachfront and island property! Now add to all of that, the world's best incentive programs for retirees.

Panamanian life is truly affordable. (a full-time, live-in maid costs about $150 a month...first-run movies cost $3.75.) and it's the safest place in Central or South America!

Panama has a stable government and a stable currency (US currency since 1904). Panama stands apart, sustained by its canal, banks, and it's free-trade zone.

Panama is one of the most beautiful retreats in the world and almost undiscovered. Known mostly for its canal, Panama is, in fact, an undiscovered tourist paradise.

Not only is Panama starting to receive more tourists, but it is also becoming one of the focal points of a new trend that is taking shape. Living and retiring overseas, once reserved for a few adventurers, is now catching on in mainstream America. A "new breed" of intrepid retirees are branching out to Panama.

Many of the 76 million American baby boomers are more likely than their parents to consider retiring to a foreign land, because they have traveled more, have higher hopes for retirement, and tend to be more active and adventuresome. A recent survey showed that 7% of those baby boomers will actually retire outside of America. That means 5.3 million Americans have already made the definitive decision to retire abroad. Panama is going to be at the top of their list, along with other foreigners looking for warm, inexpensive, and adventurous places to live and retire.
